Announcing a new copywriting service that was created to help businesses maximize their potential

MIAMI - Freelance copywriter and digital marketer, Carlos Sequeira, is excited to announce the launch of his copywriting business, Forward Marketing Communications, LLC in Miami, FL on July 6, 2021. Forward Marketing Communications, LLC focuses on writing conversational style copy that is clear, credible, and compelling. The services provided are intended to help drive traffic to customer's websites, establish brand's authority, and turn prospects into customers.

Forwardcopywriting.com was started in 2021 under the parent company Forward Marketing Communications, LLC in Miami, FL. The company provides copywriting services to businesses looking to expand their reach, through marketing and advertising.

Copywriting services include:

- Press releases
- Brochures
- Direct mail
- Website copy
- B2B marketing
- Case studies
- Email marketing
- Print or online ads
- And more...

“The reason I decided to start Forward Marketing Communications, LLC was because I felt there was a need to help businesses market their products or services. I wanted to provide personal customer service to my clients and not make them feel like a number.” Sequeira said.

Before founding Forward Marketing Communications, LLC, Carlos Sequeira experience includes content marketing, business, and customer service. Carlos Sequeira also has a background in technology and digital marketing. His life experience, writing skill, and drive to help others motivated him to start his own business.

Carlos Sequeira degrees include the following:

Bachelor of Science in Information Technology, Florida International University (2011)
Associate of Arts in Business Administration, Miami Dade College (2007)
